TSTA comment Michael Williams' resignation

Texas State Teachers Association President Noel Candelaria issued the following statement on Michael Williams' resignation:

"We wish Commissioner Williams well in his future endeavors. The Texas Education Agency faced many challenges under his watch, as the legislative majority slashed the state education budget while excessive standardized testing drew the wrath of parents and educators.

"The Texas State Teachers Association urges the governor to listen to the vast majority of Texans and appoint a commissioner who will advocate for a greater investment in our public schools and policies that will end punitive standardized testing that robs teachers and students of the time they need for real teaching and learning."
