What is TSTA Aspiring Educators?

More than just liability insurance!

Through engagement in community outreach projects, our members develop leadership skills that benefit them in the college classroom, their own classroom, and life.

More than a name or an email!

TSTA-AE members receive professional development while they're still in college—on topics such as the teacher evaluation system, cultural competency, classroom management, and legal rights.

More benefits to save you money!

Through the NEA Member Benefits program, our members save money on cell phones, auto insurance, shopping, dining, travel, and much more.

Why join TSTA Aspiring Educators?

We're set apart because:

- We believe that all children deserve to be educated in a great public school.
- We believe that public school employees should have the right to bargain their employment contracts—after all, a teacher's working environment is a child's learning environment.
- We believe that collective and political action are the surest ways to achieve meaningful change in our public schools—for children, teachers, communities, and Texas.
- We believe in training you to be the best teacher you can be! As a TSTA-AE member, you'll receive training and have leadership opportunities that will enhance your resume and make you stand out!

Professional respect

Join us and take a stand for professional respect for teachers and educational support professionals. TSTA-AE helps you develop your professional skills that will benefit you as a future educator.

- TSTA-AE provides opportunities for leadership development training in Texas and across the nation.
- TSTA-AE and NEA-AE provide professional development support and assistance with classroom management and lesson plans.
- Our legal defense program assists members with job-related issues and covers the entire cost for legal services.
- As a TSTA-AE member, you will receive a $20 rebate (up to $80) for each year you were a student member once you sign up for TSTA as an active teacher.
